After a life replete with da'awah and jihad, and in a clear American violation of Yemeni airfield

The martyrdom of the noble Shaykh Anwar Al Awlaki; together with three of his mujahideen brothers in an American air strike

Shaykh Anwar Al Awlaki together with other three mujahideen were all martyred after they had been targeted by an American unmanned drone in an area between Ma'rib and al-Juf on al-Jumma'ah; 20th Sept. 2011. This has been confirmed in a statement made by al Qaeda in the Arabian Peninsula.

The three other mujahideen are: Samir Zafar Khan aka al-Qa'qa al-Amriki, an American of Pakistani origin, Muhammad bin Muhsin from the tribe of 'Abeedah in Ma'rib and Salim bin 'Arfaj from the tribe of Dahm from Al-Juf.

Imam Anwar Al Awlaki - May Allah have mercy on him

The president of U.S. sounded contradicting himself in his statements when he claimed that al Qaeda in the Arabian Peninsula now seems weak, and then he openly declared: AQAP is still dangerous to our security! It is upon America to carry out its plans and to be cautious from any threat targeting America and its allies.

The Muslims' responses were condemning Al Awlaki's assassination. One Muslim living in America said: " we really are in debt of what happened to brother Anwar Al Awlaki. He was just an ordinary Muslim calling people to follow the teachings of their religion". In addition to that, one of the leaders of a region where al Qaeda is present; affirmed that many people have contacted him to express their anger and their extreme sadness on account of the Shaykh's assassination. They have also stressed their willingness and readiness to repel the American outrageous aggression.

As to the political scene in Yemen, Ahmad az-Zirqah (a reporter and a writer) commented on the political reaction as a response to a question posed by al-Jazeera channel inquiring the reason behind the silence of the opposition parties concerning the American operation. He said: "The political parties in Yemen are all trying to please the U.S. , particularly in the case of al Qaeda and the war on terror. They are all ready for concessions." He then added: "There is an American stipulation to both, the current government and the opposition parties. It states that any party that seeks to cooperate with the U.S. or wants the American backing, it should therefore be ready to make a lot of concessions, especially with regard to fighting terrorism".

These concessions are becoming quite evident in light of the adopted positions by the oppositions parties. As for the Islaah, a widely known Yemeni political party, it has shown these symptoms. It is clear according to their secretary general who said in an interview with Ash-sharq al-Awsat newspaper: " The party of Islaah neither condemns nor supports the killing of Anwar Al Awlaki". On the contrary, American human right organizations have criminated the act and considered it unlawful.

It is worth mentioning that the Shaykh lived and studied in the U.S. . He also served as an imam in masjid al-Hijrah while making da'awah there. He then moved to Britain where he continued the da'awah and later migrated to Yemen. The Shaykh is known for his stance against America and its policies towards the Islamic world.

Meanwhile, one of the leaders of the mujahideen informed Madad saying: "The war won't cease with the martyrdom of Shaykh Anwar, rather his blood gives life to his fundamental concepts. It will be an inspiration to the believers to follow the path of jihad which he followed." He added:
" By Allah's grace, the mujahideen vowed revenge for the Shaykh's killing."

A Shaykh of Al Sharia'h supporters advising the prisoners of war

The Supporters of Shari'ah released a video clip under the title "Walk away, hence you are Free". The video shows the handling of soldiers who fall into their captivity. The clip shows groups of captives being lectured and advised by a mujahid Shaykh. The Shaykh explained to them the mujahideen's objective and their reason of fighting the army of Ali Saleh. He also illustrated that the policy of the mujahideen is not to kill those soldiers who do not kill the Muslims.

After listening to the mujahideen, some of the captured soldiers repented publicly and then they all promised never to join the military if released and never to be a tool that is used by the regime to kill the Muslims. At hearing that, they were told by the mujahideen:" Walk away, hence you are free!!", that implied the decision to release them.
